

Negotiators Take Big Step Toward Early Armistice

FRANCE TAKES A WALK FROM TRUSTEESHIP COMMITTEE IN PROTEST TO EGYPTIAN BLAST

Paris, Nov. 23—(AP)—France walked out of the United Nations trusteeship committee today in protest against an Egyptian speech stating French control of Morocco.

Egyptian delegate Fouad El Pharaony attacked France in the committee meeting today for refusing to give Morocco its indepence.

At this, French delegate Leon Pignon and his staff of advisers left the room after insisting the committee had no right to discuss international matters.

The Moroccan question was not on the agenda of the committee, though the Arab countries have indicated they will seek to place it before the general assembly later in the current session.

The Egyptian remarks were made during a speech on information reports from governments responsible for trust territories and other non-self-governing areas.

Paris, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Soviet Union filed a formal complaint with the United Nations today, charging that the United States is financing armed groups on her teritory aimed at the overthrow of

Prime Minister Stalin's government.

The Soviet Union last night asked the General Assembly to look into charges that the U. S.

Mutual Security act was intended to foster subversive acts in Communist countries.

In an explanatory note today,

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei

Vishinsky said, U. S. financing through the Mutual Security act of subversive organizations and revisionist groups * * * constitutes an act of aggression towards the Soviet Union and the states of the peoples democracies."

The note to the U. N. followed

a similar Russian communication

to the U. S. government on Tuesday. The U. S. State Department

dismissed the protest as "groundless propaganda" and said it came

with "singular ill-grace" from a regime which has consistently supported "subversive activity against the U. S. and other nations of the free world."

The latest Russian blast against the west came as the Assembly marked time on its peace programs, with some hope—slim, but existing—that Vishinsky in a scheduled appearance before the U. N. political committee tomorrow would answer the west's disarmament proposals with a speech spelling real peace.

British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told the committee yesterday that the Assembly already has shown signs of a lessening in the east-west tension.

Office of Price Stabilization Little Tired of Hearing Story About Cabbage

Washington, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization

(OPS) is a little tired of hearing about cabbage.

The cabbage routine evidently started last August in Memphis.

Ice Boss Mike DiSalle was the main speaker at a banquet, and was introduced in a long speech.

During this long introduction the toastmaster got a laugh by saying: "Lincoln's Gettysburg address contains 268 words."

The Ten Commandments contains 297 words.

The Declaration of Independence contains 300 words.

The OPS order to reduce the price of cabbage contains 26,911

words."

DiSalle got a laugh, too, by opening his speech with: "It took the toastmaster about 1000 words to introduce me."

If DiSalle figured his wisecrack would wilt the cabbage story, he is wrong.

Max Hall, OPS information director, told me today the story continues to bob up.

It has appeared as a letter to the editor of a New York paper.

It was quoted in an editorial in Wisconsin.

It appeared in some material put out by a grocery manufacturer's association.

A congressman has written in to ask for a copy of the OPS regulations on cabbage.

All of which is pretty remarkable because fresh fruits and vegetables are not under regulations.

OPS never has put out any order of cabbage, much less 26,911 order.

"Of course," Hall acknowledges,

he has some long and complicated orders on other things."

But why pick on innocent cabbage?

BARKLEYS IN TOKYO

Tokyo, Nov. 23—(AP)—Mrs.

John Barkley, wife of the vice resident of the United States, returned to Tokyo today from a Thanksgiving Day visit to Korea.

Her husband remained in Korea for further visits to Allied units.

Leaky Balloon Almost Breaks Up Truce Talk

Panmunjom, Korea, Nov. 23—(AP)—A leaky 16-foot balloon almost broke up to-day's cease-fire negotiations here.

The huge balloon, filled with highly explosive hydrogen gas, bounced off a hot stove pipe in the roof of the main conference tent, tattered into a telephone pole, then rolled around the area, whipping its steel anchor cable.

Truce negotiations had recessed only a few minutes before Allied and Communist staff officers mapping the battle line in a nearby tent ran for safety.

The balloon was one of several anchored over the neutral conference site to warn planes away from the area.

Clouds and fogs which previously had hampered the search cleared today. Twenty U. S. planes based on Treviso air field, in northeast

Italy, swept the skies above that section and Yugoslavia.

Italian police and U. S. ground

searchers were working in the Dolomites, trying to check the report of the sighted wreckage.

The U. S. embassy in Belgrade said Tuesday that the pilot of the C-47 transport plane reported being fired on by Hungarian and Romanian border guards.

Prior to an official investigation hearing slated to open this afternoon, Ernest E. Moorhouse said

"we think" that a New Haven express ran a red signal just before it smacked broadside into a Stamford local.

Twenty-seven passengers were injured when the two trains slammed together in a narrow tunnel

beneath Park Avenue at a point where upper and lower-level tracks merged parallel on the same level.

Although both of the eight-car

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad trains were moving north at only 10 miles an hour, the impact threw some coaches against opposite tunnel walls.

The note to the U. N. followed

a similar Russian communication

to the U. S. government on Tues-

day. The U. S. State Department

dismissed the protest as "ground-

less propaganda" and said it came

with "singular ill-grace" from a

FIRE CALLS

The emergency truck from Central fire station answered two calls over the holiday, one Wednesday evening at 8:10 o'clock and the second at 2:20 yesterday afternoon. Neither resulted in much damage. The Wednesday night fire was at the rear of the Sylvania plant on Lexington avenue when a box of scrap plastic became ignited. Firemen used a booster line to extinguish the fire. Yesterday's call came when a short circuit developed in wiring of an automobile owned by Sam Rich, 124 Russell street. Firemen disconnected the battery of the car.

Jamestown Naval Reserve Organized Surface Division Has a Busy Schedule

Jamestown, N. Y. Nov. 23—While members of the Jamestown Naval Reserve Organized Surface Division 3-68 are meeting weekly to train for the future defense of their country, the current undertaking of the division is to secure personnel to donate blood to the Armed Forces Blood Donor Program to benefit those already under arms.

Capt. Calvin Torrance, medical officer of the division, has announced every man in the training center physically fit, and has requested them to give. "There is absolutely no substitute for whole blood," are the words used by the captain in his call.

The Armed Forces Blood Donor campaign is being sponsored by the Department of Defense because of the critical need for whole blood and plasma to save lives of the wounded in Korean action.

In March of this year, the Red Cross collected 161,000 pints for military services, but by July the collections dropped to less than 40,000 pints for both civilian and military services.

It has been learned that for national security by July of 1951, four pints of blood must be had for every five men in service. This means an average collection of 300,000 pints every month.

Donations to be used as whole blood, which must be used within 19 days, are sent directly to Korea by air, as needed. Whole blood not requisitioned within that time is made into blood plasma. No blood is wasted.

Donors 21 to 59 years of age inclusive are accepted, and minors between 18 and 21, if they have written permission from a parent or legal guardian.

Officials state anyone in good health can safely donate 500 cc's of blood. Each prospective donor is examined before acceptance for qualifications as to weight, temperature, pulse, hemoglobin and blood pressure. No donor is accepted who has a cold at the time or who has had a recent illness or operation. The ruling on those who have had a history of malaria within two years has been changed, however, and those persons' blood will now be used for the Armed Forces or locally.

The men of the Jamestown USNR Division are working toward a 100 per cent program with the slogan: "45 minutes of our time could mean 45 years of life to a wounded man—who deserves everything we can do for him."

New York Leads in Division of Fed. Highway Aid

Washington (AP)—New York sets the most and Vermont the least of a $500,000,000 federal highway aid fund to be divided among the states and territories for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

New York's share was figured at $30,724,302, closely followed by $29,681,979 for Texas. Vermont's share was $1,993,168.

The federal aid Highway Act, approved Sept. 7, provides $225,000,000 for projects in urban areas.

In announcing the state-by-state apportionment, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said the funds will be expended under the supervision of the Bureau of Public Roads under the general procedure in use for many years.

State highway departments propose projects, prepare plans, award contracts and supervise construction, all subject to federal approval.

Federal participation is limited to half the cost, except in states having public lands. In those states federal participation may be increased above 50 per cent by one-half of the percentage of the area of the state that is public land.

The amount states will receive and (1) federal-aid highways (major roads and (2) urban highways, along with state totals include: New Jersey—$2,865,782, $967,42, $5,290,454, $9,132,278. New York—$10,383,535, $4,159,45, $16,181,352, $30,724,302. Ohio—$7,696,430, $4,680,567, $7,658, $19,382,555. Pennsylvania—$8,680,399, $5,523, $9,164,833, $23,010,755. West Virginia—$2,409,873, $2,7655, $787,881, $5,295,409.

DIG UP VITALLY NEEDED SCRAP

If a steel strike should be called in the near future, most Americans would be outraged at the interruption in vital defense production.

But what too few of us realize is that a less drastic but nevertheless damaging slowdown in steel output could come any day from another cause: a shortage of steel scrap.

Only about half of what goes into the nation's steel furnaces represents raw materials. The other half is scrap. The use of scrap makes steel production faster, more efficient and more economical. Every ton of scrap saves four tons of iron ore, coal, limestone and other materials that go into the making of one ton of pig iron.

Before World War II, producers seldom got into a pinch on scrap. But war and its aftermath have radically changed the picture. Production has gone to record heights and is still climbing. Mills are operating this year at a rate in excess of 100 million tons annually, for the first time. By the end of 1952, capacity may be 117 million tons a year.

This puts a heavy strain on sources of both raw materials and scrap. Everyone knows our best native stocks of iron ore are running low and we are having to reach out to foreign lands to meet the demand. Scrap prospects are no better. In 1950, plants consumed 29,500,000 tons of purchased scrap. This year they need 36,000,000 tons.

The problem is aggravated by the nature of global war. Steel shipments abroad in World War II are estimated at from 110 million tons to 125 million. If that tonnage had been kept in this country, much of it would be gradually finding its way back to mills as scrap.

As it is, we must compete in the world market for such of that scrap as is available, and our success has not been marked.

Thus we find ourselves in this situation: scrap inventories at 11 major steel firms have declined in a little more than three months from an average 50 days' supply to a level fluctuating between a few days' or few weeks' backlog.

Industry and government are deeply concerned over the danger to the defense program in this outlook. The National Production Authority has devised a plan to speed the flow of scrap to the mill. In cities across the country, scrap mobilization committees have been formed. Other groups are assisting.

The heavy steel scrap most useful can be found in many places. Steel companies and foundries themselves have a lot. Factories are rich sources, since they almost always have old machinery and tools lying around. Railroads and abandoned streetcar lines can often supply heavy tonnages. So can automobile graveyards and farmers' barns. Even governments can contribute steel from condemned bridges and outdated buildings and worn-out road equipment.

Many of us may feel bowed down by emergencies of one sort or another, and wish there was some escape. There is not, of course. But the scrap crisis is not so hard to bear as some. All that's being asked is that we ferret out discarded equipment and leftovers that we don't need anyway. Let's turn up that extra 6,500,000 tons.

IT'S UNFAIR TO CRITICIZE UN TRUCE TEAM

There has been a tendency in some quarters, both foreign and domestic to criticize UN truce negotiators in Korea on the ground that they have haggled unduly over minor points. The fear has been expressed that we may give the Communists the idea we don't really want a settlement.

The criticisms are largely unwarranted. Any fair examination of the course of negotiations makes it abundantly evident that our negotiations have time and again taken the initiative in offering imaginative new proposals when the talks appeared deadlocked.

They have exhibited exemplary patience on the many occasions when the Reds have been either exasperatingly stubborn or dishonest.

Where UN negotiators have held out firmly, it almost always has been because vital UN interests were involved. In one or two instances they may seem to have pressed their advantage too heavily. But possibly they remember the many negotiators in past conferences who unhappily were assailed later for being "too soft" toward the Communists at the council table.

Hold Up a Bit, Sir, Your Trip Has Been Cancelled

Here And There

Fifty years ago, before the observance of Thanksgiving was changed from the last Thursday to the fourth Thursday in November, the annual community service was held on the morning of the holiday, and according to newspaper accounts of the rites they were usually well attended. The Evening Times of Friday, November 29, 1901, has this to say about services held the day before in the First Presbyterian church:

The annual Thanksgiving union service was held in the First Presbyterian church Thursday. The Rev. J. C. MacDonald delivered the sermon. The special music was in charge of Chorister George Lott. The anthem was given with power and beauty of expression. The regular church choir had been augmented by the addition of several well known singers. The Rev. A. J. Irey and the Rev. A. B. Markley offered prayers and the Rev. Vandersall led in the responsive reading.

Mention is also made of services in Trinity Memorial Episcopal church where the Rev. A. R. Taylor "spoke briefly and eloquently of the day and its significance."

This 'n That: Fifty years ago this week mention was made of the purchase by D. W. Beatty of the Allen property, corner of Second avenue and Liberty street, for a reported price of $40,000, and at the time it was occupied by Davis Drug Store, Greek-American Fruit and Confectionery store, A. M. Rogers and C. J. Marker. Thanksgiving was just another day for J. A. Johnson, pioneer local haberdasher, who was observed walking west through Times Square shortly after eight o'clock yesterday morning. . . . Here's a suggestion for a program for some Warren service club, as taken from the Corry Journal: "Members of the Corry Rotary Club were guests of the Erie Brewing Company Tuesday evening for a whitish dinner and made a tour of the plant." . . . From the same source we learn that our old friend William P. Lombard, formerly of the Journal, new publisher of the Blairsville Dispatch, was seated opposite the table from Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock in Blairsville Tuesday evening when the latter suffered the heart attack that claimed his life. . . . The Air Force will suspend most training activities between December 22 and January 2 and will give Christmas leaves to as many men as possible. . . . The many friends of Lawrence Knapp, former Warren resident, who has been in New York for a number of years, will be interested to learn that he is recuperating from an attack of bronchial pneumonia, which prevented him from attending the funeral of his father held here early this week. . . . Officers of the Jaycees are busily engaged in disposing of those large Christmas displays that attracted so much attention in Warren the past few seasons, and which are being replaced this year by the mammoth sign erected in Crescent Park facing the river and Pennsylvania avenue west, and some of them have already been sold to organizations in nearby towns. . . . A squad of members of the Jaycees spent a greater portion of the holiday putting the finishing touches on the huge greeting in the Park. . . . The holiday crew up at Radio Station WNAE had a tough time of it for a few hours between eight and eleven o'clock Thursday morning when a power failure was experienced that required some quick and radical schedule changes, the emergency being met in the usual speedy and satisfactory manner by the announcers.

Everything seems to be in readiness for the charity football game to be played at Russell Field between the Ex-High teams of Warren and Sheffield. Manager Eddie J. "Merson" of the locals, stated that the following will probably be seen in action: Russell O'Leary, Dave Ritchie, Leo Rossetti, Borcher, Caldwell, Smoky Slater, Morris Slatner, Bill Graham, Joe Miller, John and Mike Kashner and Sprague.

As a result of the collection made this morning under the auspices of the Warren Lions Club, three large rooms at Warren Relief Headquarters were completely filled with clothing and another room was filled with foodstuffs which will be given to the needy.

Harold Kelsey and Fritz Urban-ski, seeking jack rabbits in the vicinity of Picnic Run, noticed their dog acting in a peculiar manner. Upon closer examination they found a large black snake striking at the dog. After dispatching the snake by shooting its head off, they discovered it was a black snake measuring nearly five feet in length.

The price of turkeys will range from 30 to 45 cents per pound this year, while chickens may be purchased from 25 to 35 cents. Creamery butter is 46 cents this year and fresh eggs sell for 57 cents a dozen.

War Bullets: Britain's long-besieged garrison at Tobruk was reported to have smashed out of the Axis encirclement while other British imperial troops tightened the jaws of a steel trap on German armored forces east of Tobruk. The garrison had been under siege since last April.

K. of C. members paid tribute to seven members of the organization who died during the past year. The principal address of the evening was given by the Rev. Father Arthur Leon, of St. Joseph's.

Mrs. Harold Flowers was in charge of an enjoyable program for Philomel members. Also taking part were Gene Ezell, Mrs. T. H. Conway, Mary Blocher and Romaine Meacham, pianists, and Mrs. W. E. Yeager, soprano.

There are two top games on the schedule for this Saturday. The game with the greatest local interest will be on WNAE where you'll be able to hear the play-by-play account of the Pitt-Penn State game. This will be of a great deal of interest to everyone who has been following the fortunes of Ted Shattuck on the Nittany Lion squad. WRRN has one of the top games of the nation as Kentucky and Tennessee do battle. Sunday is pro day in the football world and WRRN will have the game between the Steelers and the Eagles. This weekend is the end of the college season, but the pro schedule will go along well into the month of December.

Shakespeare comes to Slim Chance, Texas, and brings along "The Red Trunk Riddle" for Mutual's "Wild Bill Hickok" broadcast Sunday 4:30. The U. S. Marshal (Guy Madison) and his sidekick, Jingles (Andy Devine), become involved when roughnecks attempt to break up the performances. To get the drop on these boys—and effect calm in Slim Chance—"Wild Bill" sets Jingles in the role of "Hamlet." The broadcast adventure takes off from there.

Some men love the sound of music. Others love the sound of nature. "The Shadow" program for Sunday, at 5:00, tells the eerie story of a man who loved "The Sound of Dying." This sadistic individual listened to pain, terror and finally death. He caused the murder of three persons, but Lemont (Shadow) Cranston solves his peculiar homicide methods and foils his plan for wholesale murder. Bret Morrison plays the title role.

Mystery and Suspense
How a scheming husband, playing upon the love of two deluded women, plotted with one to kill her husband and then his own wife will be revealed during Mutual's "True Detective Mysteries" broadcast Sunday 5:30. This bizarre case is solved when the police felt that the solution to one murder would be provided by the investigation of a death that had taken place in a different town.

Peter Salem's aide, Marty, decides to immortalize his voice by recording it. As things turn out, however, it very nearly kills both Salem and Marty. That's the situation facing the portly sleuth as he tangles with "The Affair of the Deadly Disc" during Mutual's "The Affairs of Peter Salem" program Sunday 7:30. Santos Ortega is starred as Salem.

There's a "Happy Birthday" to Happy!

Clarendon Auxiliary Planning Activities

Clarendon, Nov. 23 — Holding their regular meeting in the IOOF hall, a fine turnout of Marshall Larsen Auxiliary, VFW, heard reports from officers and committee heads.

Following the routine business, a report was made by Ann Ataher that Christmas cards and other assortments ordered have arrived and are ready for distribution; from Ann Vicini that flowers had been sent the rehabilitation chairwoman, Cecelia Wykoff, who has been a patient in Warren General Hospital.

Announcement was made that an old fashioned Italian spaghetti dinner has been planned in the IOOF hall Tuesday evening, December 4, from 5:00 until 8:00 p.m., with Mary Pulli and Freda Rhodes as co-chairmen.

Other reports included a successful turnout by both Auxiliary and Post members for the Armistice Day dinner held Sunday, November 11. Mabel Nobles gave an interesting account of the Northwestern Counties Council meeting held in Erie November 4 and all members were urged to attend the District meeting to be held at the Warren VFW post rooms on December 2.

The meeting came to a close with the serving of refreshments by a committee.

Mrs. Frank Johnson, Chandlers Valley, is visiting for a time at the home of Mrs. Hazel Johnson and children, 423 Chestnut street.

land Reed Production made for distribution by the Concordia Lutheran Publication House, is excellently done in color. The party, beautifully arranged and complete in every detail, was tendered Mrs. Dougherty just before her departure on a brief vacation trip South prior to assuming her new position with a local manufacturing concern.

"Midst the festive array of flowers, candles and gorgeous gifts, with refreshment buffet in the background, Mrs. Dougherty was praised for her long and faithful service by R. W. Lord Help Your 'Happy' Home If It's Anything Like This

IT'S no peace at home if children have never been taught that "No" doesn't mean "Maybe" or "Yes" if they throw a tantrum. The wife stores up the day's small frustrations to unload on the husband as soon as he gets home at night, instead of storing up cheerful little incidents to share with him. The husband takes out his office annoyances on his family, hunting things to find fault with at home whenever things didn't go well in the office.

The family is living so far beyond its means that the comfort and money they get out of the things they buy isn't enough to make up the worry over how they are going to be paid for. Children are allowed to get into the habit of almost constant quarreling and bickering and are forever tattling on each other.

JUST CAN'T BE BOthered

The husband doesn't want to be bothered with the children and expects his wife not only to take full charge of them, but to keep them from troubling him. There is seldom any fun activity in which the whole family can participate. The husband doesn't know how to relax and can always think up odd jobs for the members of the family who do.

The husband and wife get into violent arguments in front of the children. Members of the family take delight in low-rating each other, instead of taking pride in each other.

The parent corrects a child and the other parent interferes.

What Does It Mean to Worship God?

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
THE history of religious worship among all peoples provides an array of strange, amazing, incongruous, and even tragic facts. It has been marked by all manner of superstitions and correspondingly devious practices, even among cultured peoples.

It has been accompanied by cruel human sacrifices. In areas of pagan culture, both ancient and modern, obscene practices have been sanctioned within the precincts of the temple.

Among the Jews worship began and continued upon a higher plane. Abraham, who turned from idolatry of his home in Chaldea under divine prompting quickly renounced the impulse toward human sacrifice. Animal sacrifice was long associated with Jewish worship, and I suppose it underlies the kosher requirements recognized among Jews today.

But early in Israel all such sacrifice became a symbol of the sacrifice of a devout heart.

The insistence upon true worship was repeatedly declared. The prophet Amos was not alone in the intensity of his declaration, when he represented God as saying, "I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies." "Let judgment" He said, "run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."

Other prophets lifted their voices in the demand for social justice and righteousness as an evidence of the sincerity of worship. In the individual the highest form of true worship found expression in experiences of which the 139th Psalm is typical: "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

Such a spirit in worship, whenever it is manifest, transcends all rituals and forms; and rituals and forms have reality only when they are the symbols and accompaniments of the earnest quest of God and of the way of truth and right.

It is obvious that worship with many in all branches of religion is a formal matter, little related to righteousness and zeal in daily life. If it were not so, churches would be more powerful.

It is true, of course, that vast numbers today do not attend religious services, or practice worship at all. But does any one imagine that the forces of gambling, political corruption, drinking, and debauchery have been, or are, confined to the churchless and irreligious?

Against disparagers of the church it has always been my contention that it is in the churches that the best people in the community will be found—always allowing for some good sheep that are not of the fold.

But I have also observed that often it is also in the churches that the worst people in the community are to be found, using the cloak of religious formalism to cover up their evil.

Worship is meaningless unless we remember that: "God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

That is the everlasting word against all pretense and formalism.

Chapter 18

She was to remember how she managed to drive to the hospital, force her trembling legs to carry her inside. She was bound in a sort of frozen panic, and remorse, like ice, was wrapped around her heart. When she saw Teddie, looking so strange, lying on a stretcher, his face so terribly white, dark circles beneath his eyes, all she could do was kneel silently down beside him, slow tears streaming down her cheeks.

She knew about the accident. Mr. Lanford had told her when he met her outside the emergency room. Teddie's had driven his car into a bank. It had turned over, several times, throwing him against the steering wheel so that his chest and lungs had been crushed.

"We cannot save him," his father had said to Jan in the same quiet stern voice. But his eyes had shown all that he was suffering. Never had Jan seen such despair stamped indelibly in anyone's eyes before. It was the awful despair of resignation, without hope.

Now Teddie's white face was almost radiant as he tried to force a weak smile. "You came," he whispered. And then, with a great effort as if it cost him much pain, to say, "Sorry, Jan . . . had to do it . . .

"Oh, Teddie, you shouldn't have!" Then what she had feared was true. He had done it on purpose. The accident had been deliberate. It was all her fault.

Teddie reached out a hand to touch her hair, for now Jan's head was bent and she was sobbing as she never had in all her life, deep, wracking sobs that shook her whole girlish frame.

"Don't cry, please," he murmured. He gave a short sharp gasp. "Better this way . . . promise . . .

Chapter 19

She did not cry again. She bent her head, and though her lips did not try to form any words, yet Jan was praying as she knelt there. She stayed until someone lifted her to her feet again; it might have been only a moment or two. It was more than that. She knew that Teddie was dead.

Now Jan knew what Bernice had meant that Jan was so young she had never tasted sorrow.

There was something which she had not been prepared for such kindness. It was almost harder to accept than harsh words would have been. He was a kind man, Teddie's father, a truly big man to be so understanding and so tolerant. Yet she could not absolve herself from all guilt so readily.

"I will try to keep my promise," she said. "And one thing I know, Teddie has helped me to make him grow up. If ever I am worthy of his love, it will be because of that. I don't know how to thank you. Mr. Lanford, except by trying to be DEATH CAR: Above is the 1951 Chevrolet coach which figured in a fatal accident on the Sugar Run road Wednesday afternoon resulting in the death of Mrs. George L. Clark, Bradford, who was thrown from the vehicle when it skidded from the icy highway, and plowed through brush after it went over a seven-foot embankment.

OBITUARIES

Services in memory of Mrs. Fances (Pansy) Chartreux Clark aged 51 years wife of George Lynn Clark 78 Conestee Bradford, who was instantly killed in an auto accident at 12:30 p.m. in Wednesday, on Route 50 on the Sugar Run Road in Warren County, about one-eighth of a mile west of the McLean county line will be held Saturday morning at eleven o'clock from Hollenbeck's Funeral Chapel in Bradford. The Rev. Paul Miller, pastor of the Bradford East End Presbyterian church will officiate and interment will be in Giesman cemetery.

Mrs. Clark died of a fractured skull when she was partially thrown from the car operated by her husband as they were returning from Kinzua to their hunting camp at what is known as Nels Run.

Investigation by the coroner's office and members of the Warren State Police barracks indicated the car skidded on the icy highway and went over a seven-foot embankment on the south side of the road. As the car careened into the brush it appeared the right door came open and Mrs. Clark was thrown out but not entirely free of the auto. Her feet got tangled between the door and the seat, it appeared, and her head came violently in contact with a tree. Her husband escaped injury.

A certificate of death from a fractured skull sustained accidentally in an automobile crash was issued by the coroner.

Born Sept. 30, 1907 in Ridgway Mrs. Clark went to Bradford with her parents the late Elmer and Laura Chartreux, when she was a child.

She had been employed at the A. & P. Store in Bradford for the past nine years and previously had worked at a Larkin store and operated Pansy's Nation Wide Grocery store Mechanic street.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John Bartley Jamestown, and Mrs. Lester Gardner Bradford two brothers, Giant Chartreux Pass-A-Grille Fla. and Milford Chartreux, Wellsville, N.Y.

ENEMY CASUALTIES ARE OVER MILLION

Washington Nov. 23.—(AP)—The Army today estimated total enemy casualties in Korea through Nov. 14 at 1,467,407, an increase of 9,941 over the previous week. The total included 1,068,644 battle casualties, 216,394 non battle losses and 152,369 counted prisoners of war.

The figure for counted prisoners decreased 16,603 during the week the Army said because further screening of captives has separated some 16,645 suspected civilians guerrillas and other non-regular troops from members of organized enemy units.

Hitchhiking Black Cat Is Reported At Large in Warren

A rather distinguished black cat, bereft of not even one of its traditional nine lives as the result of the experience which makes it an unusual feline, is at large in Warren.

Rather belatedly, the travelogue of this wandering cat, which ended in Warren last Friday came to light today when it was learned the newcomer was found under the hood of a Nash car being serviced by Myron Check at the Check Brothers station, Conewango Avenue and Pennsylvania Avenue, east.

The car, bearing Maryland plates, stopped at the station about 4:30 last Friday and when Mr. Check raised the hood to check the oil, there crouched the cat on a small ledge in back of the motor where the dash protrudes, and beside the heater hose. The owner of the car was as much surprised as Mr. Check. He said he had been on the road several days, having left the car in a Pittsburgh parking lot the night before, and did not remember having stopped for any length of time between Pittsburgh and Warren.

The cat was dislodged, but before servicing of the car had been completed the cat jumped back onto its perch. Shooed away again, and the hood lowered, the cat disappeared and has not been seen since its rather auspicious arrival in Warren.

FARM COSTS UP AS PRICES SHOW RISE

After skidding downhill for the past seven months, U. S. farm prices made a turn upward in October. However, this increase, which amounted to about 2 percent, was not all net gain. According to Assistant County Agent Paul Hoke, the gain was partly offset by an increase in farm costs during the same period. Pennsylvania farm prices also advanced slightly during the month ending October 13. But again, the increase in prices was somewhat offset by the increases in the costs of operating a farm business.

Grain prices in this state, with the exception of corn, advanced 1 to 7 cents during the month. Apples dropped 10 cents a bushel, but potatoes rose 15 cents. Sheep and lambs were off 40 cents a hundredweight, while hogs gained 30 cents. All dairy products gained during the month. Milk at wholesale was up 15 cents a hundredweight. Chickens declined about 1 cent a pound heweight, while eggs advanced one-half cent a dozen.

Particularly effective on the warm, low hanging clouds characteristic of Australia and other South Pacific areas, the system should be capable of producing a million tons of rain from one ton sprayed on the base of a cloud formation, the Aussies say.

Up to now, clouds have been seeded with dry ice or silver iodide crystals to make it rain. Dr.

Bowen said the water method is more effective, especially under conditions encountered in his country.

The 3-year-old died of cancer, in his sleep last night.

Rodney had been ill since August. Tuesday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Gale, made the heart-breaking decision to let their son die as soon as possible, rather than be for actual induction.

A party was planned tomorrow to give Rodney "a little Christmas cheer before he died." When his family announced the plans, hundreds of well-wishers brought gifts to the poverty-stricken Gale home.

There were toys, hams, turkeys and clothing.

Damage to Bednez's car was estimated at $200, and to Whitton's car about $600.

BRADFORD MAN IS SHOT BY UNIDENTIFIED HUNTER

Bradford, Nov. 23.—(AP)—An unidentified person fatally shot Oliver H. Olson, 46, of near Bradford, Thursday while Olson and his nephew, Paul Stromberg, were hunting in the eastern section of McKean County.

McKean County Coroner Elmer Beatty said Olson was shot through the chest by a rifle bullet. Olson was in a wooded section when he was hit.

Police said they have no clue to who fired the shot.

STRICT'S COACHES BUILD JUNIOR TEAMS AROUND SMALL GROUP OF LAST YEAR'S MEN

ATHLETIC SEASON'S END LEADS SQUADS WITH BOWL ATMOSPHERE

BY JOHN CHANDLER
New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—College football nears the end of a 1951 season tomorrow, with many New Year's Day bowl games hovering over the top three on the scattered grid front. Tennessee and Kentucky, both invited to Jan. 1 bowls, at Lexington in what looks like the chief attraction of the afternoon.

Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 until proven otherwise, already is in the Sugar Bowl at Maryland. Kentucky, in three times but improving week, has accepted a Cotton berth. Tennessee, which upset Kentucky last year, is a seven point favorite over the Wildcats, the nation's No. 9 club.

It from the Big Ten, the West and the Pacific Coast areas, bowl and would-be bowl, in important struggles. Three big ten teams still with a chance for the Rose Bowl share west attention. Illinois, with inside track, can clinch it victory or even a tie against Northwestern at Evanston, Ill. It meets Indiana, and Wisconsin, the No. 8 team this week, at Minneapolis. The situation still is "ifs".

Northwestern beats Illinois, nation's No. 6 team, Purdue wins the championship by defeating Indiana. If both Purdue and Illinois are beaten, Wisconsin wins by taking Minnesota. The Badgers are favored by 11½ points. Stanford, unbeaten in nine games and certain to be the host Pacific coast team in the Rose Bowl, meets California in the far west's stellar attraction at Palo Alto. Stanford rules a 6½ point favorite. The Indians are the No. 1 team in the land.

FOR BAKER TO WIN
TODAY, EARN
BRIGHT WITH CHARLES

BY MURRAY ROSE
New York, Nov. 23—(AP)—Andy Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, rated a 9 to 5 choice to whip George Henry in Madison Square Garden tonight and earn a shot at heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

He is the showpiece for both men. They've been climbing steadily up the ladder. Baker, unbeaten in 26 bouts, has moved to a 4 ranking. Henry, with a 28 record, is right behind Baker.

A crowd of 7,000 or 8,000 people will watch them in the Garden, and other fans will enjoy their fight via NBC's network telecast.

Charles will handle the broadcast. The ten rounder will start at 10 M. (EST).

"This is it," said Baker. "This is my big chance. Make a hit in New York and on T.V. and you're the dough. I guess Henry feels the same way. It will be blood guts in there."

Henry is fully aware of the importance of the bout to his future.

"Yeah, this is the big one," said Los Angeles negro. "And I'm a big guy. But so was Marcel Davidson and other guys knocked out. I got a good left hand. If Baker can be hit, I'll hit him."

Henry, who stands 5'11½ and weighs 184, will spot the 6'1½'er about 28 pounds. Baker, downed by constant fighting, expects to weigh about 212. He shed 225 last August when he pointed Omello Agramonte.

Baker had his perfect record of 11 days ago by Kid Rivera, who held him to a draw in Cincinnati. Baker, fast puncher, has had 17 knockouts. Henry, winner of 11 straight, has 15 knockouts.

ATCHISON, PA.—(AP)—International Boxing Club has produced the winner of the crack at the title in the Garden this Jan. 1.

Ezzard, meanwhile, will face the heavyweight champion Joey Giardello in a non-title scrap in San Francisco Dec. 12.

'Intangible Something' Also Shown By Warren Team in 1905

Cage mentors of the six District 10 Section Two league schools are keeping busy these days building themselves a team for the big race of 1951-52. The reason for all their extra work can be accounted for when you count up the lettermen coming back this season.

A total of only 10 veterans can be picked out of all six contenders. Of these, Corry High, a new entry in the Section Two competition, possesses four; Meadville two; Franklin, Titusville and Oil City each one, and Warren a big none.

At Warren High Coach Joe Massa has made several cuts in his squad, but still isn't ready to start regular drills with a varsity squad.

The locals open their season at home on December 4 against Tidewater.

Down Corry way, Coach Freddie Schwab, with a nucleus of Hodie McLean, Roger Andrus, Jim Hannan and Jim Borden to work around, may throw a monkey wrench into the Section Two wheel and cause a good many headaches before the ordeal is over.

H. L. "Hud" Wells at Oil City is entering his 22nd campaign with Bill Bain, a sub on last year's squad, the only returnee. However, the veteran mentor has plenty of good jayvees on the market and shouldn't be taken to lightly.

Don Lesko is the only holdover Coach Bus Shaner has to build around at Titusville, and even some of the prospects from the JV's aren't back and leave a question marks as to just what the Rockets will have this year.

Coach Alex Dutkin is taking over his initial year as head coach in Franklin and will be resting his hopes on what last season's junior team can offer with Beryl Ace his only returning cager.

Last year's defending champs, the Meadville Bulldogs have Chuck Waitz and Willie Hunter as their lettermen back, leaving Coach John Joy with a similar construction job as the rest.

BROWNS VS. BEARS IS WATCHED BY DETROIT

Detroit, Nov. 23—(AP)—The title-hungry Detroit Lions will eye the outcome of the National Football League clash between the champion Cleveland Browns and Chicago Bears Sunday as keenly as any fan.

"We'll take the western division title if somebody can knock the Bears off for us," agree Coach Buddy Parker and his Lions.

Detroit boomed into a first-place tie in the division with the Bears and Los Angeles Rams by a 52-35 victory over the Green Bay Packers yesterday.

The Lions showed explosive power to 33,452 Thanksgiving fans in the stands and thousands more at television screens. Trailing 21-10, they jammed across six speedy touchdowns in the second and third periods.

Bradford Has Shea, Pascuzzi Named On All-Opponent Team

In listing an All-Opponent team this week, the Bradford High Owls picked Toby Shea and Sam Pascuzzi of Warren among 13 of the outstanding grididers they met up with in their 7-1 season.

Because there were so many good backs that the Owls met, they selected six, including Gilbert of DuBois, Don Pogoryl of Erie Tech, Pat Maletta and Bill Tammaro of Meadville, Toby Shea of Ellwood City and Ray Padio of C. C. C. On the line were named Burns of Ellwood City and Chuck Waitz of Meadville, as ends, Sutkowski of Ellwood City and Zimmerman of Erie Strong Vincent as tackles, and Pascuzzi of Warren and Ambroselli of Olean as guards.

Ambroselli was moved from center to the guard position to make room for Sammy Valentine, brilliant center of DuBois High.

PITT VS. STATE, PENN-CORNELL TOP SCHEDULE

By The Associated Press
The fast-waning college grid season saw only four Pennsylvania colleges in action Thanksgiving Day and only five games involving Keystone state teams scheduled for Saturday.

Lebanon Valley college dropped a 27-20 game to Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., in the seventh annual Burley Bowl at Johnson City, Tenn.

Gettysburg, with Berkley Ward passing for three touchdowns and scoring one himself, blasted Franklin and Marshall College, 40 to 20, in the 54th meeting of the two colleges. It was the final game for Gettysburg coach Ben Bream who is retiring after 24 years as Bullet mentor.

In their traditional Thanksgiving game Lincoln University of Oxford, Pa., defeated Howard University of Washington, D. C., 13 to 10.

University of Pittsburgh and Penn State hold their annual contest tomorrow at Pittsburgh.

Albright and West Chester Teachers meet at Reading in the first annual Pretzel Bowl contest, with proceeds going to the Shriners' Crippled Children Hospital at Philadelphia.

Penn and Cornell clash at Franklin Field to close their seasons. The Wildcats of Villanova are on their way to Shreveport where they meet Louisiana State University tomorrow. Temple University travels to Worcester, Mass., to meet Holy Cross.

Villanova has a date December 1 at Tulsa and Pitt goes to Miami, Fla., December 7 to wind up regularly scheduled seasons.

Bucknell, which ended an unbeaten, untied season by defeating Delaware last week, rejected a bid to compete in the Tangerine Bowl game January 1 at Orlando, Fla. Bison officials said they were unable to accept terms of the bid. Bucknell has yet to act on several other bowl "feelers." One is the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

George "Ace" Hesch didn't start with the Gannon Knights five against the Alumni Wednesday night, as we stated he would early this week, but the Warren freshman was the No. 1 sub for the Erie squad. The former Dragon star led the team in points, slipping in five field goals in the second half for a high 10. The college boys won the contest, 55-43.

Standing, left to right, are: Karl Lyons, now a local business man associated with Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation; Ralph Jackson, deceased; Chester Allen, assistant manager of the '05 team and now a prominent local business man; Eddie Klepfer, one of Warren's best athletes and former major league baseball pitcher, now deceased; Sam Ostergard, deceased; Leo Bacher, deceased.

Sated, left to right: Paul Greenlund, deceased; Howard Marker, well known local baker; Louis Jamieson, deceased; Allen H. Branch, captain of the team and now with the Pennsylvania Gas Company; Frank McNamara, manager and today one of the country's prominent surgeons, located in Youngstown, Ohio; David Erickson, a prominent attorney in Minnesota; Arthur Mead and Joe Horton, now in the oil business in Chicago.

Reclining: Clifton P. DeLong, registrar of the County Registration Commission; and Harry Kemble, deceased.

The intangible something which has driven Warren High school elevens over the years to 25 triumphs over their rivals from across the state line, as against 21 defeats and one tie, cannot be defined in logical or even understandable terms. Suffice it to be said that where Jamestown football teams are concerned, Warren High will always remain a tough opponent regardless of the differences in weight, ability or previous records.

In another league game John Harris topped William Penn to win the Harrisburg city championship.

managing the play, perhaps his partner would have been less aggressive in the bidding.

West opened the deuce of diamonds, and East won with the ace. East then returned the four of hearts—not the best defense.

South carefully took his trick in his own hand with the queen of hearts in order to try the spade finesse at once. When that succeeded he cashed the ace of spades and led a third round of spades from the dummy.

East hopefully stuck in the ten of hearts, but South did not make the mistake of over-ruffing. Instead he discarded a diamond.

East had to return a diamond, making dummy ruff with the king of hearts. Declarer could now safely ruff a fourth round of spades, cash the ace of hearts, and give up a heart trick to West's jack. Nothing could prevent declarer from reaching dummy with the ace of clubs in time to discard his remaining club on the last spade.

Neatly played by South, to be sure, but not the best defense. If East returns a diamond at the second trick, it is all misery and floundering for poor South.
